2.0 PERIOD OF PERFORMANCE

BASE Period: 10/01/15 – 09/30/16

Option 1: 10/01/16 – 09/30/17

3.0 STATEMENT OF WORK

The Launch Equipment Test Facility (LETf) at KSC requires LH2 per CGA G-5.3-2011, “Commodity Specification for Hydrogen”, Type II, Quality Verification Level (QVL) A, for testing in support of NASA’s Space Launch System (SLS) Program. The specific testing will be conducted to assess and certify components within the LH2 umbilical system.

Testing will require use of vendor supplied LH2 trailer(s) which will interface directly with the test facility and supply LH2 for the duration of test. The interface connection shall be an Air Force Bayonet. Testing may require up to two trailers at one time and is estimated to last one or two days for each test period; however, additional days may be required. Once the interface hoses are connected and trailer valves configured, the test facility will be configured for remote operation for all pressurization and venting of vendor supplied trailers. Pressurization of the LH2 trailers shall be accomplished using NASA provided gaseous helium. All operational, technical and safety requirements will be included in test procedures which are currently in development; these procedures will be shared with the contractor in advance of test date to ensure test facility and contractor equipment are compatible.
